CURRENT POSITION

Since 2006 I have worked as a Consultant Cancer Imaging Radiologist at the Royal Marsden Hospital.

I currently report 30-40 medicolegal cases per year with a roughly even split between work on behalf of the claimant and defendant.

I commenced medicolegal reporting in 2013.

NATIONAL COMMITTEES

Specialist advisor to the National Institute of Health and Clinical Excellence on interventional radiological breast procedures and techniques

Specialist advisor to the Medicines Health and Regulatory Agency (MHRA) on new radiological advances

OTHER RESPONSIBILITIES

Chair of the breast multidisciplinary team at the Royal Marsden Hospital in Chelsea.

I regularly provide specialist imaging opinions for patients with complex breast histories who have been referred as second and third opinions, both nationally and internationally

I perform medico legal reports for both claimants and defendants in breast and cancer imaging

A leading referee for peer reviewing breast papers submitted to the British Journal of Radiology

Peer reviewer for other leading journals as well as the NHS National Institute for Health Research programme

I contribute breast radiology questions to the examination board for the FRCR

I chair and co organise an interventional breast radiology study course at the South West London Breast Screening Unit
